RU-OK?

Young Person's Substance Misuse Service in Brighton & Hove

West Wing, 1 Regency Road, Brighton BN1 2RU

Telephone: 01273 293966

www.areyouok.org.uk

Services

RU-OK? is the young person's substance misuse service for Brighton & Hove. Providing free, confidential help and advice to young people (and their families) because of problems with drugs, alcohol or legal highs.

We will listen to you and help you make informed choices about drugs and alcohol, so you can recognise and address how they're affecting other areas of your life. We can help you get your life sorted how you want it to be, by offering you support with home, school, housing, health, relationships, confidence issues and more.

Details

- "What's the point in me talking to you? You'll just tell me to quit won't you?"
We're a team of professional substance misuse workers, social workers, doctors and nurses. Yes, we have your best interests at heart but we're impartial, so you can talk to us openly about your drug or alcohol use. We won't lecture you or tell you to stop. It's your life.
 - "Yeah right, then you'll just tell my parents / carers or the police won't you?"
We respect your right to privacy. Everything you tell us will be kept confidential, which means we won't share it with anyone unless you want us to (there are a few exceptions – please read our confidentiality and information sharing policy).
 - Open Mon - Thurs 9.00am-5.00pm, Fri 9.00am-4.30pm.

Email: bics.brighton-and-hove-wellbeing@nhs.net

Patients: www.bics.nhs.uk/patient-information/choose-where-you-are-treated/community-clinics/brighton-and-hove-wellbeing-service

Health Care Professionals: www.bics.nhs.uk/for-health-professionals/clinical-services/brighton-and-hove-wellbeing-service

Services

The Wellbeing Service is the new mental health service in primary care. The service offers help in GP practices for adults of all ages with the more common and relatively simple mental health problems.

The service is for people of all ages with relatively simple depression, anxiety, relationship issues, eating disorders, etc. Symptoms may be severe, but the presentation simple.

Problems may be relatively low level and, for example, benefit from a psycho-educational group to develop skills in anger management, stress management, etc.

Or problems may be relatively simple, and addressed by short-term psychological therapies; e.g. 1 or 2, or up to 6 sessions of a 1:1 Cognitive Behavioural Therapy intervention.

Some longer term therapies are available for people with the more entrenched, or difficult problems.

The service operates from, and near to, GPs' practices, in clusters.

Details

The service is led by GPs, with counselling and psychological therapy leads. Sussex Partnership is a partner in the service, along with BICS, Turning Point and Mind.

Primary Care Practitioners manage low-moderate risks, sometimes shared with GPs.

GAD and PHQ self report measures are used in the service; scores can be in the severe range, provided the presentation is relatively simple.

The professionals working in the Wellbeing Service are:

- GPs.
- Primary Care Mental Health Workers.
- Psychological Wellbeing Practitioners.
- Community Support Workers.
- Talking Therapists.

The local practices are St Peters Medical Centre, Park Crescent Surgery, Goodwood Court, Stanford Medical Practice, Albion Street Surgery and Preston Park Surgery.

The service's hours are 08:00 - 18:00 and the service welcomes enquiries about potential referrals.

The Children and Adults Talking Together Programme (CATT)

Support for children and families living with substance misuse run by the Brighton Oasis Project

Telephone Tania Soley: 01273 696970 or Sue Bowes: 01273 292949

Email info@brightonoasisproject.co.uk

www.brightonoasisproject.co.uk

Services

A new support group for children and adults affected by someone else's drug or alcohol use is offering free sessions for Brighton & Hove residents.

The Children and Adults Talking Together (CATT) programme is run by the Brighton Oasis Project.

While children take part in their own group activities, their adult carers attend sessions where they can discuss their situation and get support to cope better with someone else's substance misuse.

"If someone in the family is misusing drugs or alcohol it will have a massive impact on the people they live with or are close to" said programme co-ordinator Tania Soley.

"We aim to offer practical support for children and adults living in that situation."

Funded by CAFTA - Communities and Families Tackling Addiction.

‘the3rdWave’ Acceptance and Commitment Therapy Group for Psychosis

‘the3rdWave’ Acceptance and Commitment Therapy Support Group
Sussex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust

‘the3rdWave’ Acceptance and Therapy Group for Psychosis: Tuesdays 2.00pm - 3.30pm
Activities Room, Wish Day Hospital, Mill View Hospital, Nevill Avenue, Hove, BN3 7HZ

‘the3rdWave’ Acceptance and Therapy Support Group: Tuesdays 5.00pm - 6.00pm
Pavilion Conference Room, Mill View Reception Area, Mill View Hospital, Nevill Avenue, Hove, BN3 7HZ
Email: nicholas.mcmaster@sussexpartnership.nhs.uk or martin.lunn@sussexpartnership.nhs.uk

Services

‘the3rdWave’ is open to service users from the following services in Brighton & Hove: Adult mental health inpatient wards, Crisis Resolution and Home Treatment (CRHT), Assertive Outreach Team (AOT).

Service users who start the Group for Psychosis whilst an inpatient can continue to attend the group post discharge.

Service users can attend up to two 4 session cycles.

All service users who attend at least one 4 session cycle are invited to attend the weekly support group.

The 4 session cycle can be joined at any session.

The group is open to service users who experience psychosis as a part of their symptoms. They do not necessarily need to have a diagnosis of psychosis.

The group is referral only. Service users on the wards can self refer. For referrals from staff, in the first instance, a brief email outlining the reasons for referral is sufficient.

Details

“Acceptance and Commitment Therapy is usually simply referred to as ‘act’ and not as the initials A-C-T. There’s a good reason for this. At its core, ACT is a behavioural therapy: it’s about taking action. But it’s not about just any old action.

First, it’s about values-guided action. There’s a big existential component to this model:

- What do you want to stand for in life?
- What really matters, deep in your heart?
- What do you want to be remembered for?

ACT gets you in touch with what really matters in the big picture: your heart’s deepest desires for whom you want to be and what you want to do during your brief time on this planet. You then use these core values to guide, motivate, and inspire behavioural change.

Second, it’s about “mindful” action: action that you take consciously, with full awareness - open to your experience and fully engaged in whatever you’re doing.

ACT gets its name from one of its core messages: accept what is out of your personal control, and commit to taking action that enriches your life. The aim of ACT is to help us create a rich, full, and meaningful life, while accepting the pain that life inevitably brings. ACT does this by teaching us psychological skills to handle painful thoughts and feelings effectively, in such a way that they have much less impact and influence – these are known as mindfulness skills; and helping us to clarify what’s truly important and meaningful to us – that is, clarify our values – and use that knowledge to guide, inspire, and motivate us to set goals and take action that enriches our life.” From ‘ACT Made Simple’ by Russ Harris ‘the3rd Wave’ ACT group for psychosis takes this approach over four sessions with the aim to improve a person’s ability to cope with psychosis and other unwanted experiences and turn our attention and energy away from the fight and towards living life to its full potential.
