

Making Connections...Building our PPI Community

In the (Christmas) Spirit of Involvement and Recovery....

Could you help us do this?

'About You' Information Survey

We are using this survey to obtain a baseline measure of who takes part in involvement activities currently.

Participation will be measured again after the PPI Cafe Pilot Project to see what impact the project has had.

Completing the survey is optional - if you feel strongly that you do not want to complete it but are happy to let us know why, that feedback is more than welcome!

How to reach under-represented communities?

We want to get out there and talk to them.....

We need to pro-actively reach out to under-represented communities, in order to make PPI work more inclusive and to improve the quality of research and services.

This includes older people, young people, BAME, LGBTQ+, the homeless and people who have English as a second language

We would like to use your expertise to identify community groups or services that we could potentially consult with, in order to identify what the barriers are for these groups.

Making Connections

Using Post-it notes, write on each note any community service or group across the SPFT area that could be a potential for us to speak to about PPI work and the PPI Cafe's.

Focus on services that may contain under-represented communities - older people, young people, BAME, LGBTQ+, the homeless and people who have English as a second language

Stick on the paper provided in its geographical location

Thank-you
